CRT Default Decision and Order

The applicant applied for small claims dispute resolution with the Civil Resolution Tribunal (CRT or tribunal) and requested a default decision and order. The following is the CRT's Default Decision and Order.

CRT DECISION

Proof of Notice:

1. A respondent must respond to a Dispute Notice within 14 days of receiving the Dispute Notice, as indicated on the Dispute Response Form, or as permitted by the CRT. A respondent served outside of British Columbia has 30 days to respond, instead of 14 days.
2. Having reviewed the evidence, I am satisfied that the respondent(s) received the Dispute Notice and did not respond to it by the deadline set out in the CRT's rules. This means the respondent(s) are in default, as defined in section 1(1)(a) of the Civil Resolution Tribunal Act (CRTA).

Jurisdiction:

3. The CRT's small claims jurisdiction is set out under CRTA section 118. The applicable CRT rules are those in place at the time the Dispute Notice was issued.
4. The CRT will make a binding decision without the participation of the respondent(s). The CRT will send the parties a copy of the final decision and order.
5. Where permitted under the CRTA, in resolving this dispute the CRT may order a party to do or stop doing something, pay money or make an order that includes any terms or conditions the tribunal considers appropriate.

Decision:

6. Liability is generally assumed in default decisions, and as the respondent has not participated in the dispute, I find in favour of the applicant.

7. The rest of the applicant's claim is for damages. At my request, the applicant provided evidence of their damages. I accept this evidence.
8. The applicant is also entitled to their paid CRT fees and dispute-related expenses, as set out in the preceding pages.

CRT ORDER

9. In accordance with the CRTA and the CRT'S rules, further to the decision set out above, I order the respondent to pay the amounts set out in the preceding pages. The applicant is entitled to interest, as set out in the preceding pages.
10. This is a validated decision and order. Under CRTA section 58.1, the applicant(s) can enforce this order by filing a copy of it in the Provincial Court of British Columbia. When you file a CRT order with the Provincial Court, the order has the same force and effect as if it were a judgment of that court.
